

A team-building event to reward staff and expand their whisky knowledge while learning the basics of whisky tasting and appreciation.

Covering topics such as how to best appraise whisky, understanding the flavour wheel and identifying the characteristics of whisky varieties from around the world, Purple Soup's Whisky Tasting Workshop will allow your team members to sniff, swirl and slurp their way through a personalised experience that is suitable for novices and connoisseurs alike.

Throughout the session, your team members will also be given a greater understanding of the process of whisky production and a clearer idea of the nuances of style and quality.

Purple Soup can also arrange dinner for your team, as well as transportation to and from your workplace.
